Historic Preservation Workshop

The Event

To be held at
Kickemuit Middle School

Wednesday, April 13th
Dinner 6 – 7 PM
Workshop 7 – 9 PM

Please come join us for a public discussion about the future of your town's history and how best you can help to preserve it.

Roger Williams University's Historic Preservation Program, in the form of an academic exercise, is working to create a Historic Preservation Plan for Warren, RI. We will present our efforts in May to the Town of Warren, and they may use our work should they deem it appropriate.

Though we have worked extensively with various organizations in Warren to obtain information and input, we are very interested how the citizens of Warren feel about their historic and cultural resources. This public workshop will help us to understand what historic resources are important to the people of Warren and what methods of preservation they feel are best for protecting these resources.
